Senator by the Democrata in the Xth District, is a veteran in politics. He was elected to Congress as a Whig is 1847, and was the first Superintendent of the Bank Department, which was created in 1851, being appointed be by (lov. Hunt. He was defeated for Congress in 1860 and for Secretary of State in 1863. The Republican jour-nals say that he was the personal choice of Gov. Tilden.

A wise man among the Monroe Republicans prevented their giving a foolish and undignified fling at gov. Tilden. The platform of the County Convention contained the following plank : " Resolved, That a Demceratic Governor who, succeeding to a Republican administration which has accomplished reforms and reeved the people of heavy burdens, claims credit for himself, as he enters office, for good works performed by his predecessor, seeks commendation and applianse under a false pretense, and asks for rewards he has not earned." On motion of H. A. Brewster, this was stricken

The sentiment against Senator Selkreg in his own party is evidently on the increase. The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, congratulating the party on the high standing of its legislative nominees, says: "Without particularizing, we may say, that the instances are rare in which men of doubtful antecedents bave secured an indersement at the hands of Republican conventions There are one or two nominations that it would have been better had they not been made, but these a discrim mating constituency may be trusted to pass upon. The mating constituency may be trusted to pass upon. The instances are more numerous, where men of large abilities and against whom there were no proven charges, have been defeated, because of the purpose to indorse no man against whom the smallest suspicion of personal wrong-doing, or entanging alliances, existed." The Democrat proceeds to culogize all the Republican Senarors renominated at the time of writing, with the conspicuous exception of John H. Selkreg.

Ex-Senator Henry R. Pierson, nominated for Senator by the Albany Republicans, has declined the nomination. Mr. Pierson asked the advice of Vice-Presi dent Vanderbilt as to his acceptance of the nomination, and received a reply from which the following is an extract : " You are a director of this Company and the reable head of one of its most important departments Your official duties would naturally be supposed to oc capy all your time and attention, if we conduct our busi mess as closely and economically as we chaim; and to ab-sent yourself from those duties, while serving as Senator, would probably embarrass and could in no sense help the Company." Mr. Pierson, in his letter of declination, states this decision, and leaves the field free for another a mintare. Now, will this sense of delicacy on the part of officers of the Central Railroad lead them to ask Senator Wagner to withdraw! The Troy Times charges Lieut.-Gov. Dorsheimer with unfair dealing whereby the State was wronged to a considerable amount. The details of the story are briefly these : The Pratt bank of Buffalo had on deposit from 1850 to '58, canal moneys amounting to $20,000. The bank failed in 1858, and the State, sning on the bond of the president of the bank, T. W. Patchin, recovered $19,223 15. The Commissioners of the Canal Fund conveyed T. W. Patchin's real estate held by S. D. Patchin and Gilbert Cameron as assignees, to William Dorsheimer, who was made trustee for the State. He gave a mortgage on the property which was assigned to the State as collateral to the judgment. Last year Mr. Dorsheimer induced the Commissioners of the year Mr. Dorsheimer induced the Commissioners of the Canal Fund to take the property and surrender the judgment. Before doing so they required a tax search, which the Lieutenant-Govenor presented and showed the taxes and assessments to be about $4,000. The Hon. Geo. U. Furdett, on behalf of Mrs. T. W. Patchin, then effect $12,000 for the property, but procuring an authentic tax search, found that the taxes and assessments were $12,000 instead of $4,000. The offer of $12,000 was then reduced to $4,000. The tax search exhibited by the Lieutenant-Govenor is missing. This is an outline of the charge of The Troy Times. THE DRAMA.

BOOTH'S THEATER. Mr. Belmore concluded his engagement at this theater on Saturday night. On Friday night, for his benefit, he appeared as Newman Noggs, in a version of "Nicholas Nickleby," specially arranged for him by Mr. George Fawcett Rowe. The performance was remarks ble for delicate and quaint humor and touches of pathos, and painfully good as the picture of a shattered, brokendown drunkard. The personation was so true to the Neuman Noggs of Dickens that it might have been supposed the original of the character. At the fall of the ertain Mr. Belmore was twice recalled by enthusiastic applause, and, to the demand for a speech, said :

applanse, and, to the demand for a speech, said:

LADIS AND GENTLEMEN: I come before you totally unprepared with anything to say, for I did not anticipate so much warmth on your part. But I wish to express my grateful thanks to the New-York public for the kindness with which I have been treated. I will try to descree its approval on all occasions when I shall appear before it, which I hope will be often. Ladies and gentlemen, thanking you once more, I gratefully and respectfully say goodby for the present.

Mr. Leclercq as Squeers showed a thorough comprehension of the character. Mr. Warde as young Nickleby was

Mr. Warde as young Nickleby was bandsome and spirited, and in the scene of the quarrel with Squeers was greeted with a storm of delighted ap plause, Miss Agnes Michell as Tilda Price and Mrs. Free Williams as Fanny Squeers were both good. Miss Rosa Rand was cust for the part of Smike; she wore a wellcuried wig, and she is much too large and buxom in appersance for the character of a starved, maltreated boy.

SIGNOR ROSSI.

From the present aspect of affairs it seems that the public are to be disappointed in the anticipated appearance of the Italian tragedian, Signor Rossi. We blish Mr. Grau's card, which explains the matter so far as is yet known by that gentleman himself :

This contract was duly signed and executed. All its obligations have on my part been most scrupnlously kept by the payment of the passages of himself and his company, by an advance to him of a large sum of money previous to my departure from Europe, and by extensive preparations made since my arrival here for his debat.

The performera are clever in their various ways, and the entertainment is bright, funny, and free from vulgarity. The audiences are good, and the portion of the public which finds its recreation in the enjoyment of variety shows has the satisfaction of seeing many favorite performers at Tony Pastor's new house. SUICIDE IN NEWARK.

John Huber, now under indictment for an assault on his step-daughter, for which he was to be arraigned for trial in the Court of Quarter Sessions to-morrow, returned to his home at No. 234 Orange-st., Newark, yesterday morning, under the influence of liquor, and drove his wife from the room with a revolver. Mrs. Huber watched him through the keyhole, and saw him pouring a quantity of gunpowder on the floor, when she gave an alarm. A moment afterward the report of a pistol was heard, and when the police entered the room they found Huber lying on his back across the bed, his feet resting on the floor and a stream of blood pouring from a wound just below the right temple. His physicians say that he cannot recover. Just before Huber returned to his home he was relating his troubles in a drinking saloon, and the barkeeper said to him, "Don't talk so much, but go home and shoot yourself." Huber then walked toward the door and replied, "That's just what I am going to do," and as he left the saloon those present laughed at him.

Addresses were made by Fernando Wood, Congressman Benj. A. Willis, Hugh L. Cole, Col. Keegan, John Rafferty, and others. Music, a display of fireworks, illuminations, and transparencies, enlivened the proceedings. On Mr. Rafferty's appearance upon the platform "three cheers for Boss Tweed" were called for and given with a will. The drift of the addresses corresponded with the resolutions read and adopted. These touched on the enormous public debt which it was alleged was due to the Republican debt was a National blessing;" on the issuing "by the Republican party and Administration of irredecimable paper called money;" on the present depressed state of trade and commerce, owing to the Republican, "constant blundering and tinkering with the finances;" for all which reasons the Republican "policy and hypocrisy" were condemned. Gov. Tilden's Administration was cordially approved, the nominations of the Democratic State Convention at Syracuse applauded and promised a hearty support. "Fraudeception, and lawless practices in the conduct of the primary elections" were denounced as "fruitful sources of corrupt voting and bad government," and the authorities were called upon to reform the cylis of the present system. THE CHARTER ELECTION IN NEWARK.

The charter election will take place in Newark, N. J., to-morrow, and it is thought that the contest will be a very close one. Both political parties have been making strenuous efforts for success, and more than the usual interest is manifested in the present ampaign. The city usually gives a small Republicat najority, but two years ago the Democrats elected their candidate for Mayor, and a year ago they elected the majority of the Common Council. THE SCANDAL SUIT JURY'S EXTRA PAY All of the jurors who served in the suit of Filton against Beecher, except Messrs. Whalen and Jeffreys, have signed a memorial to be presented to the Kings County Board of Supervisors, asking for $5 extra pay each for every day's service during the trial. Messrs Whalen and Jeffreys are in favor of their late colleagues receiving additional compensation, but do not wisn to sign the memorial as applicants on their own account. The subject has been frequently discussed among the jurors since the refusal of the Supervisors to make an award of extra pay under the recent act of the Legislature providing for additional compensation for jurors in protracted trials. The jurors finally held a meeting to take fermal action, and appointed a committee to prepare a memorial which was adopted at a subsequent meeting and which will be presented to the Board of Supervisors at their next meeting. The ostensible ground of the Supervisors in refusing the previous application was that to grant it would be to establish a bad precedent. Counsel who have been consulted by some of the jury declare the claim valid, and if the Supervisors continue their refusal to allow it, there is said to be a determination to appeal to the Courts. Whalen and Jeffreys are in favor of their late colleagues

A MYSTERIOUS ARREST.

Detectives Dorsey and Keely last evening made an arrest concerning which they declined to give any information. The prisoner was taken to the Central Office and locked up for the night. These are the same detectives who arrested John Dolan as the supposed marderer of Mr. James H. Noc, and it is conjectured that this new arrest may be somewhat connected with that case.

JEROME PARK RACES. THE MOST ATTRACTIVE DAY OF THE FALL MEETING-THE FAVORITES BEATEN IN SHARP CONTESTS-

GINIUS, AND ATHLETE.

Faultless weather, good attendance, and exciting races combined to make Saturday at Jerome Park the best day of the Fall Meeting. The cool October air was invigorating; the sun was bright, but not too hot, and the mellow Autumn season was in itself a strong in-vitation to the pleasant trip to the Park. In the Grand Stand were many ladies, richly clad, while the slopes in front of the club-house were brilliant with fair faces and marvelous combinations of color and fabric. The three massive four-in-hand coaches of Messrs. Bennett, Bronson, and Jerome, on the level sward at the foot of the ascent, were the centers of much gayety, especially at luncheon time, when champagne and chicken satisfied the appetites to which the long drive had given an unwouted zest. The betting men gathered thickly around the pool stands, and in vested their money extravagantly on their favorite racers, which, in every case except one, failed lamentably to justify the confidence placed in them, and were beaten by the most despised horses in the field. It was a day of great surprises, and a day of immense losses to the heavy speculators, as the betting was immense. The

A The first event was abelling race with allowances, in a dash of a mile and an eignth. There were five starters, as follows: G. L. Lorillard's Leander, to be sold for $1,000 (95 pounds); August Belmont's Caroline, $500 (85 pounds); Daswell's Arcturus, $750 (92 pounds); McDaniel's Josée B., $750 (102 pounds); and Mattie W., $500 (98 pounds). The McDaniel entries were the favorites, selling in the pools at $600-$100 against $280-$325 on Leander ; $150-$185 on Caroline, and $40-$70 on Arcturus. Arcturus though last in the pools was first in the race, causing general astonishment. He was third at the start, but, dashing to the front, led the way by the udges' stand with Josie B. and Leander on either flank. He had an advantage of four lengths as he entered the home-stretch, with Josie B second, leading Leander and Caroline, Mattie W. being last. Josie B. increased her pace, but could not reach Arcturus, who crossed the line with two lengths to spare, in 2:0442. Mattie W. secured third place, four lengths behind Josie B. She was disqualified for the place, however, as her jockey was found to be under weight. Mutual pool tickets on Arcturus brought $69 60 each.

The second race was a dash of two miles and an eighth for the Annual Sweepstakes for three-year-olds; $250 each, half forfeit, with $1,000 added; the second horse to save his stake. Out of eighteen nominations only three came to the post. Chesapeake was a great favorite three earms to the post. Chesapeake was a great favorite with the betting men, who almost entirely disregarded the chims of Tom Ochiltree. The latter's victory was as much of a surprise to his owners as to anybody else, and is his first since his successor at Baltimore in the Spring. He met with constant reverses at Jerome and Long Branch in June and July. Pools were sold as follows: McGrath's Chesapeake, 110 pounds, $1,000-$1,100; P. Lordhard's Chesapeake, 110 pounds, $1,000-$1,00; P. Lordhard's (W. Cottrul's) Ascension, 112 pounds, $370-$300; Chamberlin's Tom Ochiltree, 110 pounds, $1,00-$150.

The start was made at the furlong pole. Swim kept Chesapeake at a slow pace, bu he pissed the Grand Stand with an advantage of four lengths over Ascension, who had led Tom Ochiltree by two lengths. As the horses daried by the Grand Stand a second time, Chesapeake was leading by two lengths with Tom Ochiltree four lengths behind Ascension. As they turned into the home-siretch Ochiltree was even with Ascension and soon passed her. Cheapeake was only half a length in advance, and will little apparent effort Ochiltree went by him, and came home an easy winner in 4:00%, Chesapeake second. He was six feet four inches tall, well proportioned, very imposing in appearance, and the very finest specimen of the grand old Virginia gentleman. He was pleasant, genial, polished, and kind and considerate to all. His mind was well stored with information of all sorts, but he particularly loyed Revolutionary history, in which Jefferson bore a part.
